

Full Time Head Judo Coach

Initially 1 year fixed term contract
£23,000 - £27,000pa
40 hours per week, 48 weeks per year.
Based at Ernest Bevin Sports College, Tooting, SW17.

Background

Greenhouse provides sport and performing arts for young people in state secondary schools and community clubs in deprived areas. We target young people who may not otherwise have access to these opportunities, enabling them to develop positive life skills.

Following the success of our existing sports programmes at Ernest Bevin Sports College in Tooting, Greenhouse has formed an exciting new partnership with the college and the British Judo Association resulting in a new Judo programme that follows the Greenhouse full time engagement model being introduced initially as 1 year pilot scheme. Therefore we are seeking to recruit a qualified skilled head Judo coach to start work at the college.

The role

Based full time at Ernest Bevin Sports College, you will be both a role model & mentor to pupils where you will plan, manage & deliver a fully inclusive programme of Judo coaching to all pupils in the college. The programme will be extra curricular focused, but may include some limited work alongside the PE department with year 7 & 8 pupils from time to time, this may also include 1:1 coaching & mentoring. Predominately you will establish breakfast, lunch time and afterschool clubs and develop regular competitive opportunities for all players. You will also develop holiday programmes & camps during all 3 half terms, the Easter holidays and during the school summer holidays. You will be expected to establish close working relationships with local community clubs so that opportunities for players to join local clubs becomes a fundamental part of the programme. All Greenhouse staff are provided with comprehensive Continuous Professional Development support & are expected to commit fully to Greenhouses Safeguarding Children and Equalities Policies.
